

Dear FCC,

I am very concerned about potential lobbying and legislation which would restrict my ability to receive traffic reporting on XM radio, which I subscribe to. This is a unique service offering ongoing information unlike the spotty and casual coverage offered by local radio stations. In addition to this valuable service, XM offers numerous genres of music unavailable anywhere on local radio. To me their service is invaluable and any effort to scurtail concerns me deeply. Please do not allow the special interests of what is becoming a relatively small number of LARGE radio conglomerates to dictate the choices that should be our protected right.

Sincerely,

Landon Hollander
